*Cloudli Alerts Lets Your Organization
Communicate at Scale, with Ease*

When it's time to communicate en masse, getting your message out, to the right people in the right way, is no longer as simple as it used to be. Some people love emails; others want text messages; for some, a phone call is your best bet; and for others, your social media page is their first stop for the latest updates. With so many communication channels, managing notifications can get out of hand, fast.

Cloudli Alerts makes it easier than ever to send out alerts and notifications – from boil-water advisories to school closures and more – across multiple channels. With Cloudli Alerts, you can easily choose the right method of communication for each recipient to increase reach and engagement.

At Cloudli, we understand that good products need an even better customer experience to be great. That's why Cloudli Alerts is designed with an easy-to-use, send-from-anywhere interface and is backed by a responsive team that delivers personalized support.
